What is FOREX Market ?

The Forex market is a global, decentralized, over-the-counter (OTC) marketplace for trading currencies, where individuals, businesses, and governments exchange one currency for another at determined prices. It is the world's largest and most liquid financial market, enabling international trade, investment, and speculation on currency price movements. Participants include banks, central banks, corporations, and individual investors, with trading occurring 24 hours a day, five days a week.

What IS AI in FOREX ?

The trading robots use machine learning and artificial intelligence in their trading strategies. It enables them to predict eventualities in realtime, resulting in the best trades. The AI forex trading program places a trade after seeing a trading opportunity. It also uses the best stop loss and takes profit settings.
